From the LONDON GAZETTE, MARCH 9.

By the KING,

A PROCLAMATION.

For apprehending JOHN WHEBLE and R. THOMPSON.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS on the eighth day of February last, complaint being made to the House of Commons, of the printed news-paper, intitled, The Gazetteer and New Daily Advertiser, Friday February 8, 1771, printed for R. Thompson, and also of the printed news-paper, intitled, The Middlesex Journal, or Chronicle of Liberty, from Tuesday February 5, to Tuesday February 7, 1771, printed for J. Wheble, as misrepresenting the speeches, and reflecting on several of the Members of the said House, in contempt of the order, and in breach of the privilege of the said House: It was ordered, That the said J. Wheble and R. Thompson should attend the said House of Commons; and they not having obeyed the said order, it was thereupon ordered, by the said House of Commons, That the said John Wheble and R. Thompson should be taken into the custody of the Serjeant at Arms attending the said House, or his Deputy. And whereas the said Deputy Serjeant having informed the House, that he had not been able to meet with the said John Wheble or R. Thompson, or either of them, though he had been several times at their respective houses, and had made diligent search after them, to take them into custody, an humble address hath been presented to us, by the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for Shires and Burghs, in Parliament assembled, that we would be graciously pleased to issue our Royal Proclamation for apprehending the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, with a promise of reward for the same; we have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Privy-Council, to issue this our Royal Proclamation, hereby requiring and commanding all our loving subjects whatsoever, to discover and apprehend, or cause the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, or either of them, to be discovered and apprehended, and to carry him or them before some of our Justices of the Peace, or Chief Magistrates of the county, town, or place, where he or they shall be apprehended; who are respectively required to secure the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, and thereof give speedy notice to one of our Principal Secretaries of State, to the end he or they may be forthcoming, to be dealt withal, and proceeded against according to law: And for the prevention of an escape of the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, or either of them, into parts beyond the seas, we do require and command all our officers and subjects of, and in our respective ports and maritime towns and places, within our kingdom of Great-Britain, that they, and every of them in their respective places and stations, be careful and diligent in the examination of all persons that shall pass, or endeavour to pass, beyond the seas; and if they shall discover the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, or either of them, then to cause him or them to be apprehended and secured, and to give notice thereof as aforesaid. And we do hereby strictly charge and command all our loving subjects, as they will answer the contrary at their perils, that they do not any ways conceal, but do discover him or them, the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, to the end he or they may be secured. And for the encouragement of all persons, to be diligent and careful in endeavouring to discover and apprehend the said John Wheble and R. Thompson we do hereby further declare, that whosoever shall discover and apprehend the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, or either of them, within three weeks from the date hereof, and shall bring him or them, the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, before some Justice of the Peace, or Chief Magistrate, as aforesaid, shall have and receive, as a reward for the discovery, apprehending, and bringing the said John Wheble and R. Thompson, or either of them, before such Justice of the Peace, or Chief Magistrate, as aforesaid, the sum of Fifty Pounds for each; which our Commissioners of our Treasury are hereby required and directed to pay accordingly.

Given at our Court at St. James's, the eighth day of March, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-one, in the eleventh year of our reign.

LONDON, MARCH 11.

IT is somewhat remarkable, that the Spanish Messenger, who brought his Catholic Majesty's Approbation, or (as it is called) Ratification of the late Convention, still remains here, but for what purpose is not known.

We hear that several doubts have arisen among some of the learned in the law, concerning the legality of the late proclamation.

In opposition to the report which has prevailed, that an outlawry against the Printers would certainly follow the King's proclamation, it is now said, that the lawyers have declared, that no such measure can constitutionally be taken.

Others assert the proclamation to be of a similar nature with that prohibiting the exportation of corn, which stood in need of the assistance of an act of parliament, to indemnify the advisers.

In confirmity to this opinion, a popular Alderman it is said, attended at the Chapter Coffee-House three days successively last week, with a blank warrant in his pocket, to commit such as should be concerned in enforcing the proclamation.

MARCH 14.

Tuesday, in the House of Commons, there was very warm work about ordering the Printers to attend the House, for printing the speeches. On this occasion there were 23 divisions; an instance of which has not, perhaps, before been known. Col. Barré, Mr. Townsend, Mr. Sawbridge, Sir Joseph Mawbey, and several other gentlemen, were strenuous advocates for the Printers, and attacked the Ministry very severely.

The House did not rise 'till five o'clock. They adjourned 'till this morning, when the Printers of the six following Papers are ordered to attend:—The Morning Chronicle—The St. James's Chronicle—The London, Whitehall, and General Evening Posts—and The London Packet.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, dated March 1.

"The Parliament of Ireland met the 26th of February. Lord Townshend was insulted by the populace, in his way to and from the House. The usual addresses were moved in the Commons, and an amendment, that contained a compliment to the Lord Lieutenant, was carried (though all the allurements of Peerage, place, and pension, were held out, and every engine of ministerial influence set to work) by a majority of only 25. In the House of Lords, upon a motion of a similar nature, the victory was obtained for government, by no more than fourteen voices (though the Bishops were unanimous in its favour.) On the 27th the committees met to draw up the addresses: But so exasperated were the people at the proceedings of the day before, that several thousands of them assembled, with arms in their hands, and surrounded both Houses of Parliament. The Lords were dragged from their coaches, and many of them insulted and beaten. The 28th, the Commons debated till midnight, upon their sole right to originate money-bills, by which means, the addresses are still postponed; and so strong is the opposition, that though the Court has a majority, yet they cannot carry them through. A circumstance never known in this country before, and which shews how obnoxious the present Lord Lieutenant is become."

A private letter from Dublin mentions, that small parties of horse patrole the streets from sun-set, with orders to disperse any three people conversing together. The chief Justice of the King's Bench has wrote to the students of the college, which has been read to them by the Provost; in short, every precaution is taken to prevent any future riot, though it is much to be feared.

It is generally believed that the Parliament will have business of a very critical nature to discuss, relative to a sister kingdom, which will render their prorogation this spring much later than usual.

It is said, that Mr. Potter, will set out again in a few days for Madrid.

Extract from the Guildhall Rota Book.

Guildhall, March 15, 1771.

JOHN WHEBLE, the Publisher of the Middlesex Journal, was this day brought before Mr. Alderman Wilkes at Guildhall, by Edward Twine Carpenter, a Printer, being apprehended by him in consequence of a proclamation in the London Gazette of Saturday the 9th of March instant; but the said E. Twine Carpenter not having any other reason for apprehending the said Mr. Wheble than what appeared in that proclamation, the said Mr. Wheble was discharged; and then the said Mr. Wheble charged Carpenter for assaulting and unlawfully imprisoning him, and on his making oath of the offence, and entering into a recognizance to prosecute Carpenter at the next sessions in London, Carpenter was ordered to find sureties to answer for this offence, which he did, himself being bound in 40l. and his two sureties in 20l. each, and was thereupon discharged. Carpenter requested a certificate of his having apprehended Wheble, which was given to him.

(COPY.) Guildhall, March 15, 1771.

THIS is to certify, That John Wheble, the publisher of the Middlesex Journal, was this day apprehended and brought before me, one of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the city of London, by Edward-Twine Carpenter, of Hosier-Lane, London, Printer. JOHN WILKES, Alderman.

Immediately after this Mr. Wilkes wrote the following.

(COPY.) Guildhall of London, March 15, 1771.

My Lord,

I Had the honour of officiating this day as the sitting Justice at Guildhall. John Wheble, the publisher of the Middlesex Journal, a Freeman of London, was apprehended and brought before me, by Edward-Twine Carpenter, who appears neither to be a constable, nor peace officer of this city. I demanded of what crime Wheble was accused, and if oath had been made of his having committed any felony, or breach of the peace, or if he lay under a suspicion strong enough to justify his apprehension or detention. Carpenter answered, that he did not accuse Wheble of any crime, but had apprehended him merely in consequence of his Majesty's proclamation, for which he claimed the reward of Fifty Pounds. As I found that there was no legal cause of complaint against Wheble, I thought it clearly my duty to adjudge, that he had been apprehended in the city illegally, in direct violation of the rights of an Englishman, and of the chartered privileges of a citizen of this metropolis, and to dis-

He then made a formal complaint of the aſſault upon him, by Carpenter; I therefore bound him over to proſecute in a recognizance of Forty Pounds, and Carpenter to appear and anſwer the complaint at the next quarter ſeſſions of the peace for this city, in a recognizance of forty pounds himſelf, with two ſurreties in recognizances of Twenty Pounds each.

I am, my Lord,
Your Lordſhip's moſt obedient humble Servant,

Right Hon. Earl of Halifax. (Signed) JOHN WILKES.

Yeſterday in the afternoon Mr. Miller, Printer of the London Evening Poſt, was taken into cuſtody by a Meſſenger from the Hon. Houſe of Commons, who ſaid he was ſent with a warrant ſigned by the Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, to carry him in cuſtody before that houſe. Mr. Miller finding the meſſenger had no warrant from any magiſtrate of this city to take him into cuſtody, ſent for a conſtable, in whoſe charge he delivered him, and he was in conſequence taken to the Manſion-Houſe; when the Lord-Mayor appointed ſix o'clock for hearing the merits of the cauſe. At the hour appointed Mr. Miller and the Meſſenger were brought before the Right Honourable the Lord-Mayor, and Meſſrs. Aldermen Oliver and Wilkes; when, previous to the examination, the Deputy Serjeant at Arms appeared, and declared, that hearing the Meſſenger was in cuſtody, he was come, by order of the Speaker, to demand that the ſaid Meeſſnger, together with John Miller, ſhould be delivered up to him; but his Lordſhip proceeded in the buſineſs, and declared, that the ſeizing a Freeman of London in that city, without a warrant ſigned by a Magiſtrate of the ſaid city, was contrary to its laws and conſtitution; he therefore diſcharged Mr. Miller. Mr. Miller then fully proved, by three witneſſes, the aſſault made upon him by the Meſſenger, when he was ordered to give bail, to take his trial at the quarter ſeſſions to be holden for this city, when ſeveral gentlemen preſent offered to be bound for his appearance; but this having been abſolutely refuſed, the Lord-Mayor ordered a warrant to be made out for his commitment, which was ſigned by his Lordſhip, and Meſſrs. Oliver and Wilkes. The Deputy Serjeant then, and not till then, declared, that he had orders to refuſe giving bail for the Meſſenger, till after the Lord-Mayor ſhould have ſigned the commitment (ſuppoſing that his Lordſhip would not have proceeded ſo far) but that now having ſeen the commitment ſigned, he was willing to give the bail required, and it was accordingly accepted. The Deputy-Serjeant then returned to make his report.

Laſt night, about ſeven o'clock, Mr. R. Thomſon, Printer of the Gazetteer, was apprehended at his own door, in Newgate-ſtreet, and carried before Mr. Alderman Oliver, at the Manſion Houſe, as being the perſon deſcribed in his Majeſty's proclamation; but not being accuſed of having committed any crime, he was diſcharged and ſet at liberty. The man who had apprehended him then deſired a certificate of his having acted in purſuance of the proclamation, in order to obtain the reward of Fifty Pounds; which was immediately granted him.

To the Right Hon. Sir FLETCHER NORTON, Knt. Speaker of the Houſe of Commons.

SIR,

ON my return laſt Monday night from the country, whither my buſineſs had carried me, I was much aſtoniſhed to be informed that ſome perſons, pretending to be the Deputy Serjeant and Meſſenger of the Houſe of Commons, had called ſeveral times at my houſe in my abſennce, declaring their intention to take me into cuſtody by virtue of a pretended warrant from you; and that a writing had appeared in the Gazette, under the form of a pretended Proclamation by his Majeſty's authority, to order all his Majeſty's loving ſubjects to apprehend John Wheble; and to forbid all perſons to conceal him at their peril. In conſequence of this information, being better verſed in Printing than in Law, I thought it proper to take the advice of Counſel learned in the Law upon my caſe; being deſirous to yield an intire ſubmiſſion to the laws of my country, and knowing no reaſon why I ſhould conceal myſelf, or why I ſhould be apprehended, having never been guilty of any breach of thoſe laws. Incloſed I have ſent you a copy of my Counſel's opinion, which I humbly deſire you to lay before the Houſe, and inform the Honourable Houſe, that I am determined to yield no obedience but to the laws of the land, and ſhall therefore abide by my learned Counſel's opinion.

I am (in all lawful commands)

THE General Aſſembly of the Province of Georgia, met at Savannah on the 23d paſt. On the 24th, the new elected Commons Houſe of Aſſembly unanimouſly rechoſe the Hon. NOBLE WIMBERLY JONES, Eſq; for their Speaker. But, being diſapproved of by the Governor, they, the ſame Day, unanimouſly choſe ARCHIBALD BULLOCH, Eſq; He was approved of, and the Seſſion opened with the following Speech:

Honourable Gentlemen,
Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

I AM to acquaint you, That, on my Repreſentation with Reſpect to the Election-Bill, formerly preſented to me, and which I then rejected, his Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to permit me to aſſent to one, for the Purpoſes therein propoſed, except for limiting the Duration of the Aſſembly.

I have Nothing further to communicate to you, or any Thing more to lay before you, than was before the late Aſſembly; Matters ſo recent, that it would be needleſs to repeat 'em again now, and as this is a Seaſon of the Year which particularly requires the Attention of the Planters at Home, let me recommend it to you, to confine your Views to ſuch Things only as are moſt eſſential; and which, if entered upon with a Spirit of Unanimity and Diſpatch, may very ſoon be gone through: All other Matters, which may not appear to be of immediate Utility, I would propoſe ſhould be poſtponed 'till a more leiſure Time. JA. WRIGHT.

Savannah, in Georgia, Council-Chamber, the 24*th of April*, 1771.

On the 25th, the Hon. Mr. Jones, late Speaker, received the Thanks of the Houſe, "For his ſteady, impartial, and faithful "Diſcharge of that high and important Office, for ſeveral Years "paſt, throughout the Courſe of which he had diſtinguiſhed "himſelf in the moſt conſpicuous Manner, and proved himſelf "a dutiful and loyal Subject to His Majeſty, and a true Lover "of his Country, by ſupporting, on every Occaſion, the Honour "and Dignity of the Houſe, and the Rights and Privileges of "the People."

The ſame Day the Houſe reſolved, "That the rejecting the "Speaker elected by their unanimous Conſent, was a high "Breach of Privilege of the Houſe, and tended to ſubvert the "moſt valuable Rights and Liberties of the People, and their "Repreſentatives; and that the Members, being unwilling to "delay the neceſſary Buſineſs of the Province, did proceed to "chooſe another Member as Speaker; nevertheleſs declaring "that it ought at no Time, to be admitted as a Precedent."

The 26th, the following ADDRESS was drawn up, viz.

To His Excellency JAMES WRIGHT, Eſquire, Captain-General and Governor in Chief of His Majeſty's Province of Georgia.

The ADDRESS of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

"WE, his Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, return your Excellency our Thanks for your Speech delivered to us at the Opening of the preſent Seſſion. We beg your Acceptance of our grateful Acknowledgments, for the Attention you have been pleaſed to pay to the united Requeſt of both Houſes of the late Aſſembly, reſpecting the Election-Bill, as, at the ſame Time, you aſſure us, His Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to permit you to aſſent to an Act for that Purpoſe, but with Concern obſerve, that the material Clauſe for limiting the Duration of Aſſembly is excepted.

"Notwithſtanding the advanced Seaſon of the Year, we ſhall chearfully proceed to frame all ſuch Bills as to us may appear moſt conducive to the real Intereſt of our Conſtituents, ever keeping in View the great and eſſential Rights of the People, and the Honour and Dignity of the Crown."

And while two Members were ordered to wait on the Governor, to know his Pleaſure when he would be attended with the ſaid Addreſs, His Excellency commanded the immediate Attendance of the Houſe, and delivered to them the following Speech, viz.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

WHEN I met you, I was hopeful that you would have entered upon ſuch Buſineſs as appeared moſt eſſential to the Public Welfare, with a proper Diſpoſition, in which Caſe I conceive it might have been gone through in a very ſhort Time; but am ſorry to find, by the Proceedings entered on your Journals, that, inſtead of paying any Attention to my Recommendation, a Spirit of a very different Kind prevails amongſt you, and that you have been hardy enough, not only to call in Queſtion, but abſolutely to deny, His Majeſty's undoubted Right to approve, or diſapprove, of a Speaker, and which Power is particularly delegated to me; I ſay, when I ſee you have committed ſuch an Inſult and Attack on His Majeſty's Authority, it totally puts it out of my Power to enter upon any Buſineſs with you, or ſuffer you to ſit any longer; and, however unwilling you may pretend to be to delay the neceſſary Buſineſs of the Province, yet I doubt not, but all DISCERNING AND UNPREJUDICED Perſons will clearly ſee, that the Obſtruction to Public Buſineſs, proceeds from your Conduct, and not mine.

And I do, by and with the unanimous Opinion and Advice of His Majeſty's Honourable Council, diſſolve this Aſſembly, and the ſame is hereby diſſolved.

Savannah, Council-Chamber, the 26*th April*, 1771. JA. WRIGHT.
